

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

A Weekly Review of National Affairs
(By Spectator)

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—The next session of parliament will start early in January. This point was made clear by Mr. Mackenzie King on his return from the West Indies where, in company with Mr. Skelton, under secretary of state for external affairs, he has been spending the past few weeks in recreation after a strenuous and trying summer. Mr. King also made it quite clear that parliament was not to be rushed in its deliberations because of the visit of Their Majesties next summer. Word had not yet been received of the exact time when the King and Queen would arrive in Canada. If the legislative programme for the session was not finished when Their Majesties come to Canada, parliament would be adjourned, not remembered later to finish up. "We will expedite the business as much as possible" said Mr. King, "although we do not want parliament to be rushed. The business of parliament will be proceeded with in an orderly manner."

It was hoped and expected said Mr. King, that Their Majesties would visit all provinces of the Dominion during their three weeks' visit to this country. There would be no cooperation and consultation between the federal and provincial so that all arrangements would be subject, of course, to all plans covering the tour. Their Majesties would be invited to visit all provinces of the Dominion. The main principle which will govern the itinerary will be to let Their Majesties see as many as possible of the people of the Dominion. Social engagements will be kept to a minimum. The King and Queen will be given the opportunity of becoming acquainted with their subjects in the Dominion. The visit which the monarchs will make to the United States will not be taken out of the time spent in Canada. They will be in Canada the full three weeks originally intended.

Whether the King will preside at a meeting of the privy council in Canada, of which there are about ninety members, is not certain. The Prime Minister, however, felt that it would be a very nice thing if he did. In London, Mr. Chamberlain, the Prime Minister, has described the coming visit of the King and Queen to Canada as "a truly historic occasion." Illustrating "the special part" Their Majesties would take in the life of the Commonwealth of Nations. Also, of outstanding importance was the fact that the decision to take the opportunity of their presence in Canada to pay a short visit to the United States. Their Majesties would then return to the United States with a warm message of good will to the great republic of the new world.

If the trade treaty with the United States were ready for signature the session would have been called before Christmas, but without the treaty there would be little news in bringing members from distant parts of Canada for sittings of a week or two and then have them travel long distances to their homes for the Christmas recess. There is still the uncertainty about when the treaty will be signed. When it is ready for signature Mr. Mackenzie King will go to Washington to sign it. Beyond the fact that it is "now in its final stages" secrecy still surrounds the progress of the negotiations.

Mr. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, is beginning to attend meetings of the cabinet at Ottawa. He seems to be quite recovered from the illness which attacked him in the last few days of last session. He is still, however, taking care not to overstrain his strength and has not up to the present taken over the administration of his department. The department has fortunately been under the capable guidance of his deputy minister, Justice Clarke.

A report issued by the department of Finance shows that in the past two to three years about 47 million dollars have been loaned on housing schemes in the Dominion. A little over 22 million have been spent on the repairs and modernization of the houses under the Home Improvement Act, and the balance under the National Housing Act and its predecessor, the Dominion Housing Act. The National Housing Act did not come into effect until the end of July and considerable time was spent in making the necessary arrangements and organizing companies. A large part of the building season had therefore already passed before the act came into actual operation. Furthermore, the conditions were adverse business conditions and the crisis in Europe to retard matters. For all that good progress was made. It was a particularly encouraging fact that October although an autumn month had the largest number of loans approved of any month since the housing plan began. This was a favorable sign for the next building season.

At the John Deere show Monday night prizes donated by Mr. Weyer were won by L. Wheeler, Alex. Iverson, Mrs. H. Backs, and Mrs. A. Peter. An unfortunate accident to the projector the last reel could not be shown, but showing grand helpfulness Mr. Little came to the rescue with two fine comedies.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Fred Holmes, Mrs. Clifton and Mr. J. Gray held a kitchen social in honor of Mrs. E. Harwood. There was a merry group present and an enjoyable evening resulted. Jean McElroy took high score in the three table bridge, and Dorothy Freeman her. After refreshments, a three reel wedding cake made of boxes was brought in, with the girls in the bottom.

Mrs. Woodliffe entertained members of the Sorority Society at her home Tuesday evening. Many members are holding small parties like these.

Mrs. A. M. Moore is spending two weeks with her daughter Mrs. A. M. Cumming in Stony Plain.

Scout Notes

Acting for the Troop on Armistice Day, Tendonford Davidson carried a Wreath to the Cenotaph. There were about 10 boys present.

The Scouts gave Orders Without Question. The only way a troop or a home can be run is with orders being carried out. If the orders are given and nobody obeys, a troop would soon be a laughing stock. Therefore, then, let us obey. Scouts know that you can't be a leader if you can't also obey and they obey with a grin. They make the best of it and make it twice as easy that way. Peeling apples is much easier than chopping trees, and they look at it that way. They don't put up an argument because they can do it without friction. Scouts obey orders.

LI. COL. DEVEY, D. S. O. SPEAKS AT ARMISTICE SMOKER
To complete the arrangements for the commemoration of the 26th anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, the Strathmore Branch of the Legion held their Annual Armistice Smoker on Monday night. Over 90 members and their guests at down to the festive board prepared by that able cook R. E. Gray and his assistant W. Gray. A repeat without the former for this occasion simply wouldn't be done. As for the latter, well it takes two to make a pair. The chairman, President J. B. Wilson, remarked in his welcome that to his mind, in view of the recent near approach to war, this was the most outstanding Armistice anniversary since the event took place. In introducing the guest speaker Lt. Col. W. Devey, D. S. O., Commanding Officer Strathmore House, he stated that this was the Colonel's first visit to Strathmore, and that he hoped it would be the first of many. Colonel Devey, most fluent and entertaining speaker heard at such a gathering. Being a soldier for thirty three years he has been of experience in many wars. He reviewed his own and others recollections of 20 years ago, contrasted events then with conditions today, and gave a fair and intelligent estimate of both sides of the matter. His fund of good stories seemed endless, and they did not cease with his address which was given heartily

USEFUL NOXIOUS WEED

By its rapid invasion of lands permanently or temporarily abandoned the Russian Thistle has retarded soil drifting and served as an emergency five stock feed when nothing else has been available. It is an annual weed and is thought to have been introduced into the Dominion about 1875, later spreading into the Prairie Provinces of Canada.

plains and greatly appreciated, but continued throughout the evening when his witty sallies caused much merriment.

S. H. Crowther proposing the toast to the guests, expressed the pleasure to the members to join in having a pleasant evening. Responses, as is usual on such occasions were given by numerous guests, who gave voice to their pleasure at being in attendance. D. B. Brook defended the honor of the Australian Forces. He also took up arms in defence of the "Cockey" and "The English Power in Canada" as against the Scot. His "posse of arms" with Col. Devey was a great source of laughter. G. H. Patrick led the community singing and his songs were well received. Demand for Col. Devey was a great demand. Col. Devey contributed two fine violin solos. As usual Capt. Crow was right there at the piano. John Dunlop, who had given a song, Dutch. Other soldiers were T. Carr, Wright, W. Gray pleased the audience with a recitation. The company as a whole can be said to have been in fine voice. The "Die Hards" terminated the evening, or was it morning? with the customary assembly around the piano with M. Haidt at the keys. So far none of that group has given away the secret of what time they left for home.

Mackenzie of Strathmore was made vice president. Nearly 1000 teachers attended the three meetings which were held at the same time, the other groups being the S. B. C. FINISH LAST LINK ALL-WEATHER ROAD

An all weather road from Winnipeg to Vancouver has at last been completed, thus improving the western network of tourist highways.

Through the completion of graveling the 28 mile link of the Sasquatch highway between Waseca and Hignate, just west of North Battleford, the route is now all weather surfaced from Winnipeg to Jasper park.

LICENSING ACT FARCE

After dismissal of an action of Mr. Car Supplies of Calgary, by Justice Hovson protesting an order to obtain a license under the Licensing of Businesses Act of 1927 as imperative because it did not provide for penalties, the government suing into action and has made the necessary provisions in an order in council ready for immediate issuance, according to Hon. E. C. Manning.

The minister stated that the original order in council was not held in valid and all license fees collected under it were "property and legally collected."

LARGE UNIT UNPOPULAR

At a meeting of delegates from school districts held under the large unit for Strathmore on Monday afternoon, many members seemed to feel that the scheme was very unsatisfactory in its present state. The opinion was that the small boards were to be relieved of all responsibility and left with nearly as much work. One speaker said, "That's why boys leave home, and many boards will be in a state of confusion."

Col. McGregor, School Inspector, carried the meeting with Harry Gross in the chair. According to a study of 11 years where the scheme is now in operation there has been an average saving of $5,000, or roughly 10 to 20 per cent. The system is in operation, he said, in England, Scotland, New Zealand, British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec and 24 of the States to the South.

Mr. Gross has been no provision made to pay local secretaries, he stated and in this spite of the fact that they had almost as much to do as formerly. Most delegates felt that their secretaries

At the Cenotaph—

Despite very inclement weather, a good sized group were at the Memorial Cenotaph on Friday morning. Following the silence, O Canada was sung, followed by a short address from Mr. Louis Wreath were then laid on the Cenotaph by seven group representatives, and the flag was raised to full mast. The service closed with the National Anthem.

On Sunday a very large number turned out to hear the service conducted by Archbishop Swann of Calgary. The Last Post and Reveille were played by a Lord Strathmore. Horse Bugler and a number of hymns sung prior to the address by the Archbishop.

In his talk he stressed the necessity of building up the enthusiasm for democracy that the totalitarian states have—"an honest to God patriotism."

His theme was built around the word, "Sacrifice, what must we do to be saved," and he answered this with two points, "Believe in what we talk about," and "Believe in the Lord, Jesus Christ." His teachings carry the solution.

He closed with the suggestion that need to reconstitute the League, use an appeal to sanity and not to war, and out of this build a new philosophy of life—the philosophy of the Son of God.

WEDDINGS

COLLINS—DANKWERTH

In spite of the impending blizzard which was already filling the roads, a large number of guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Ingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Collins, at Standard, Alberta, on Friday afternoon, November 18th, when their daughter Grace Helena was given in marriage to William James Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Collins, also of Standard, the Rev. W. M. Dilbert of Strathmore United Church officiating.

The bride was attired in a floor-length, ivory satin dress of pale blue and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. She was attended by Mrs. J. B. Stickle of Gleichen, who wore a floor length dress of cerise taffeta. The best man was George Grant of Strathmore.

A beautiful canopy of pink and white shadowed the west sitting room window underneath which the ceremony was performed. Mr. R. Hugh of Car Supplies of Calgary, by Justice Hovson protesting an order to obtain a license under the Licensing of Businesses Act of 1927 as imperative because it did not provide for penalties, the government suing into action and has made the necessary provisions in an order in council ready for immediate issuance, according to Hon. E. C. Manning.

After congratulations, all gathered around the tables to enjoy a delicious lunch carefully prepared not efficiently served. The following day the bride party left for Calgary where they were to spend a few days before taking up residence on the Collins farm during the absence of his parents on a winter's holiday.

All join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Collins a long, happy and prosperous wedded life.

UNITED GRAIN GROWERS STAND FOR WHEAT BOARD

Vigorous declaration in favour of the maintenance of the Canadian Wheat Board and protection of farmers' interests was made by the United Grain Growers Association at its annual meeting in Calgary at the beginning of the month. The Board's position in the annual report pointed out the need for western unity to overcome difficulties in the way of securing a fair price for wheat. The Board's position was that the Board should be continued, contributing to the difficulties, it was suggested, would be any attempt to elect the Wheat Board. The report stated: "Only through continued national unity, through continued national realization of the importance of the wheat growing industry, and of the disabilities suffered by the West will it be possible to have the Board continued. There will also be required united action in the West and generous recognition of the extent to which help has been afforded to this year. Any attempt to make percentage, commercial or political capital out of the Board, any tendency on the part of a person, a party or an institution to claim credit for its existence, imperil the future operations and the very existence of the Board."

Shareholders of the Board, however, felt that shareholders would prefer even to risk some small loss of business on the Board, rather than have the Company engaged in a scramble for credit which would make it more difficult to secure a united national opinion in the future in favour of a Wheat Board.

My enemy came night;
And I
Stared lovely in his face;
My life went writhing back in a grimace,
And stern I watched him from a narrowed eye.
Then he turned away,
My enemy,
That bitter heart and savage aid to me;

—Some day, when this is past;
When all the arrows that we have are cast;

We may ask one another why we hate?

And fail to find a story to relate;
It may seem to us, then, a mystery
That we could hate each other—
Thus said he; and did not turn away; Waiting to hear what I might have to say!

But I fled quickly; fearing, if I stayed,
I might have kissed him, as I would a maid.
"Hate," by James Higginson.

Allows one day in seven for possible

And it is doubtful if many Have thought enough for more than that.

SERVE CANADIAN FISH
FREQUENTLY FOR FLAVOUR

Our Canadian fish is the finest in the world. It is beautiful, nourishing, and contains plenty of those valuable salts to good health—Vitamin A and D. These are the vitamins that help us resist colds and all the winter ailments. They build up resistance, and make crisp, cold days a pleasure.

There are so many kinds of Canadian fish, packed in cans, quick-frozen, and in some markets rushed from the stores, that great variety is possible. The way to stretch the budget is to watch the daily fluctuation in price, and to pick brands with well-known Canadian names, packed in

A FARMER'S MUSINGS

(By Tim Longbottom)

Need for Reform—

Doubtless induced by the general state of unrest within the province, prominent Canadians have been frankly discussing the need for constitutional reform and the alleviation of human misery.

Quite recently, Mr. Herridge and Doctor Munton came out with statements which in other days would have been regarded as fine samples of communist teachings.

These gentlemen have reached the rightful conclusion that the old order is outworn and that the majority of their fellow citizens are entitled to a new deal.

It does seem strange that men representing a party which has consistently backed up the financial interests should now openly suggest many changes, but it must also be said that the policy is a very tired one.

Revolutions in Russia, Germany, and Italy came from discontent and economic difficulties and the democratic institutions of this wide land are to survive, they who derive the most beneficial results from them will have to be foremost in supporting worth while reforms.

As the matter now stands, we have too much unnecessary suffering throughout the country, not enough protection against exploitation, and also lack a courageous policy of settling the differences between East and West.

Secret Service—

Although the intelligence Department of the British government is now operating millions of dollars annually, its ramifications are never discussed in the house of Commons.
Better known as the Secret Service, the high reputation it has long enjoyed was enhanced by clever work at the time of the Ethiopian Crisis.

Mussolini had planned to destroy the British ships stationed at Malta in a very unique fashion, and without a formal declaration of war. His large air force was to make the attack during the night and a number of planes loaded with high explosives were to be piloted onto the anchored ships by members of the suicide squad.

Upon landing on or upon passing water so that the targets would be visible to the airmen above.

To ensure that none of the vessels would escape, the Italian navy was to appear at the right moment to strike at the surviving ships as they steered their way from the harbour to the open sea.

Plenty Wet—

A letter from a relative in Scotland brought news of flood conditions in the district where we lived before coming to Canada.

Heavy rains every day for nearly three weeks at a stretch have ruined many crops, and since a large number of fields are covered with water, the usual fall operations have been completely suspended.

To those who are familiar with conditions in the British Isles and the continent of Europe such a meaningless greater disaster than the loss of a crop in our western country.

Large quantities of high priced fertilizers have to be used, and labor being hired on a yearly basis, the farmers have to keep on their help no matter what happens.

Rents run as high as twelve dollars per acre annually, and although a reduction is usually effected in a year of stress this has to be done in a voluntary fashion by the landowners.

Quite frequently these fellows need the money quite badly, for although the rents may seem outrageous the increased value of the land is more than 2 1/2 per cent interest.

MENACE FROM MARS

The writer-actor-producer, Orson Wells, whose realistic radio presentation of "The War of the Worlds" created terror and mass hysteria in many points of the United States two Sundays ago, will be heard this Sunday over CFAC, when he appears on the Silver Theatre with Helen Hayes.

The radio performance which provided "too realistic" was an adaptation of the H. G. Wells story depicting an imaginary invasion of the world by creatures from Mars, and was presented in the form of a news broadcast, purporting to give flashes on the latest developments.

BEERS

The Brewing Industry of Alberta justly stands in high repute. It is a heavy purchaser of barley — a sure cash crop for the farmer. It contributes heavily to civic, provincial and Federal treasuries. . . . It maintains large regular and secondary payrolls, and manufactures the finest beers that can be made.

THE WEATHER AT CEREAL
 The weather during the past week has been cloudy with very little sunshine showing and several light fur-ries of snow have fallen. At the time this is being written the sky is thickly overcast with clouds and there is every appearance that a snow storm is drifting in from the North west.
 The thermometer at this time is in the evening of last Thursday registered four degrees below, it being the first time that zero weather has been registered this fall.

THE SPORTS
 LEDGER

The meeting of the Curling Club postponed twice, will be held tonight unless it falls. As the season is advancing, the executive hopes to see a good sized group out. The Town Hall at 8 p.m. tonight.

Interest is running higher and higher among the bowlers as they continue to strike or spare or —. At any rate, they are to be seen nearly any night of the week upsetting those badly plus.

There are three ties in the lineup now, for first, third and tenth place with teams running—Freeman, Ro-bers, Martin, Sweden, A. Crellin, Gray, Groux, Anderson, Wright, J. Crellin, Sun Tighen, Colson and Coetz.

Almost any wild animal will become tame if you pick up a stone and make a pretense of throwing it.
